

Welcome to the new website for... The Museum of Western Film History

Yes...a new website to host America's only Western Film Museum, previously, known as the Lone Pine Film History Museum.

Similar to the Baseball Hall of Fame which all know is in Cooperstown, N. Y., the Museum of western Film History will always be associated with its heritage in Lone Pine, California.

The new website is built on the newest platforms to permit ease of viewing on the newest technology in phones and tablets while providing across the board ease of navigation on all media.

The New Home Page offers visitors one click options on a number of features. Under "Home" a link to our Museum brochure; "Traveling in Lone Pine," which offers visitors important information on traveling Highway 395, visiting Lone Pine and Inyo County with a drop down link for "Tesla Owners" about our new Tesla Charging Station; A click on "Exhibits" will take you to a page that highlights the museum's wide variety of exhibits, while a drop down menu notes new or special presentations. "Film History" provides link to an extensive list of films made in Lone Pine and the region. "Links", present our recommendations to community partners and to notable Western film websites; "About Us", provides background and history on the museum and our new Mission statement, a drop down menu will track our "PR releases"; "Contacts" provides email links to key personnel.

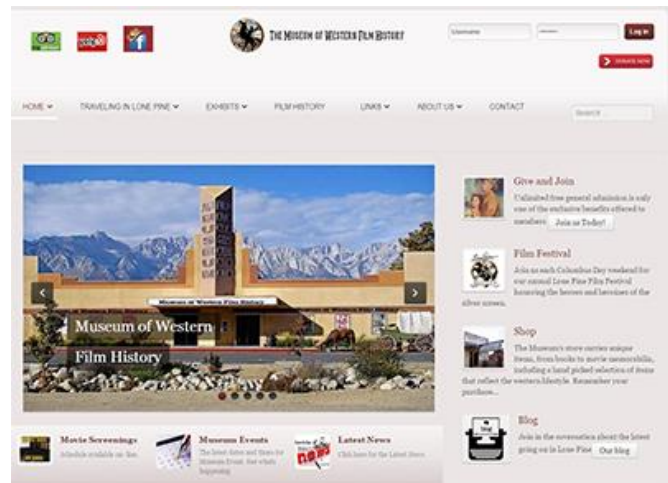

The center Billboard features rotating pictures provide quick links to respective graphics; the right side menu providing direct links to "Give & Join", information on membership, donation of memorabilia, and soon a new link to contribute to a new building fund; The annual Lone Pine "Film Festival", "Museum Store" and a new "Blog" option allowing our visitors to participate in an on-going dialog on key Western Film Subjects, Click on it once you register to contribute your thoughts on -Top Westerns and Best Western Gun Fights.

Just under these, you will find a Welcome, A direct link to "Traveling in Lone Pine", and information on the "Alabama Hills and Tours." To the right of these panels –links to "Lone Pine, Then & Now" displaying images of movies sites as seen on the screen and the natural view we see every day; and last, a link to movies – "Made in Lone Pine."

At the top of the home page you will find direct links to our Trip Advisor, YELP and our Facebook page on the left. On the right, boxes to log in (or register); a quick link to "Donate," and a website search box.

On the bottom of the home page you will find: Directions to the Museum; a click on the map image provides direct access google maps. Also noted are the Hours, Admission and Contact information as well as further direct links to pages under, Explore our Site.
